THE CRISIS IN BRAZIL.

A TOWN CAPTURED.

(CENTRAL NEWS TELEGRAM.)
New York, November 13.—The Herald Valparaiso correspondent telegraphs that the rebels in Rio Grande have captured the town of Santa Rosa, but little resistance being offered. The towns of Yaguaron, Santa Victoria, and Porto Alegre are now the only support of President Fonseca in the province of Rio Grande do Sul.

Paris, November 13.—A despatch from Buenos Aires states that contradictory reports have reached there regarding the object of the insurrection of the Brazilian provinces of Rio Grande. According to some accounts, the movement is in favour of the Imperialists. The following telegram has been received from Rio de Janeiro:—It is officially stated that the Brazilian Government has decided to maintain all its legations abroad, including that to the Vatican. In view of the present satisfactory balance between the national expenditure and revenue, the Government hopes that the current financial year will close with a surplus. Thirty thousand contos of reis are already represented by cash in the Treasury. This amount, added to sums remaining over from previous financial years, will constitute a reserve exceeding 60,000 contos. Councillor Mayr, president of the Bank of Brazil, has resigned, and his successor will be elected immediately. It is thought probable that Baron Guayr will be chosen, and that the late president will remain a member of the board. In official circles it is believed that the sum of 100 contos, which the official committee of surveillance, will inspire great confidence. The election to Congress will take place at the end of January or the beginning of February. According to the Niels, the advisability of sending French warships to Brazil to protect French subjects in that country is being discussed.

MILITARY SCANDAL IN FRANCE.
Paris, November 14.—The Petit Journal reports that a grave scandal has been brought to light at the camp at Chalons—two officers, five non-commissioned officers, and a troop of the 1st Chasseurs being accused of gross misconduct. The officers are said to have been brought up yesterday before a court of inquiry, while the other men compromised are in prison. The affair has created much excitement at Chalons.

ANOTHER BANK SCANDAL IN GERMANY.

Berlin, November 14.—A fresh bank scandal is announced to-day. Herr Maass, a banker at Charlottenburg, near this city, appeared at the central police station in Berlin yesterday evening and confessed to having converted to his own use securities entrusted to him by clients. It appears that many small capitalists are losers by his default, and that the sum embroiled include 20,000 marks raised for the erection of the Empress Augusta Memorial Church, and 10,000 marks subscribed for the Prince Frederick Charles Institute. The deposits misappropriated by Maass amount to 400,000 marks, and there are also 150 creditors for small amounts. His reason for surrendering to the police at Berlin instead of at Charlottenburg is, it is said, the position which he held in society, he was ashamed to give himself up to the authorities at the latter place.

GERMAN-ITALIAN COMMERCIAL TREATY.

Munich, November 13.—The Neuesten Nachrichten states that at their meeting to-day the German and Italian officials are conducting the negotiations for the conclusion of a commercial treaty between the two countries, signed a draft protocol embodying the arrangement.

RUSSIAN OPINION ON THE AUSTRIAN EMPEROR'S SPEECH.

St. Petersburg, November 13.—Referring to the hope expressed by the Emperor Francis Joseph, in his speech to the Delegations, that the dangers besetting the European political situation may be removed, and that the present cares and burdens of a threatened peace may come to an end, the semi-official Journal de St. Petersburg to-day says:—This wish will be shared in all quarters, where, with due regard for existing legitimate interests, the maintenance of European peace is most justly recognised as the surest pledge of the welfare and happiness of the nations.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Rome, November 12.—The Peace Congress to-day elected its various officers, and commenced the discussion of the first question, that of international peace and disarmament. One speaker demanded that the Czar should be called upon to grant a constitution to his people, while another urged the adoption of a resolution in favour of submitting the difference between Chili and the United States to arbitration.

POLICY OF THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT.

Paris, November 13.—The Gaulois announces that an interpellation on the subject of the general policy of the Government will probably be brought forward in the Chamber to-morrow, the object of giving the Premier an opportunity of disposing of all misunderstandings and clearing the political horizon before the arrival in Paris of M. de Giers.

EXPLOSION IN WESTPHALIA.

Essen, November 13.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred at the Koenigs Ludwig coal pit, by which eleven miners were killed and two injured.

GREAT BRITAIN AND EGYPT.

M. St. Hilaire INTERVIEWED.
Paris, November 12.—M. Bartholomy St. Hilaire, in an interview with a representative of the Belair regarding Lord Salisbury's statements at the Guildhall in reference to Egypt, is represented to have declared that he could find nothing to condemn in the British Premier's speech. It is certain, he added, that the Egyptian people must be guided, as they were incapable of being their own masters. France had committed a serious error in declining to associate herself with England in the accomplishment of this task.

"Egypt," said M. St. Hilaire in conclusion, "will be evacuated, since an undertaking has been given to that effect, but the task which has been undertaken must be definitely completed, and that will take a long time." The same journal also publishes an account of an interview with M. de Balignieres, formerly French commissary-general in Egypt, who, after deploring the evacuation of Egypt by France, remarked that Europe must not attach too much importance to Lord Salisbury's speech, which he described as merely a many-sided retaliation intended to conceal the uneasiness of the British Cabinet.

ARTILLERY SHELLS IN A LADY'S TRUNK.

Paris, November 14.—This morning's papers state that the Octroi officials yesterday seized a trunk from Toulon addressed to a lady residing in Paris, in which were several artillery shells hidden under a quantity of linen. The trunk is believed to belong to Captain Reichenberg, of the Marine Artillery, who is the brother of the actress at the Comedie Francaise, and is now serving in Senegal. An inquiry into the affair has been opened, and Captain Reichenberg has been requested by telegraph to furnish explanations.

FURTHER GOLD DISCOVERIES IN MALACCA.

Cape Town, November 12.—A telegram has been received here by the British South Africa Company from the Hon. Cecil Rhodes, reporting the discovery of extremely rich gold reefs near Port Victoria. Other agents of the company report that the developments on the Mase River are very favourable. The reefs are situated on two properties the shafts have been sunk to a depth of sixty-eight and thirty feet respectively. The agents also state that rich reefs have been struck in many other places, particularly on the Umuzwe River.

AUSTRALIA AND HER CRITICS.

Melbourne, November 11.—Lord Hopetoun, the governor, attended the annual banquet given by the mayor of this city on Monday, and in his speech referred to the recent criticisms on the Australian colonies published in England. The governor said:—These travelling scribes are received here as visitors, and are treated well, but the kindness shown them is not repaid, for the Australians are declared to be little better than savages, their finances are described as rotten, and their loyalty as worthless." His lordship gave a positive contradiction to these statements as far as Victoria was concerned. From a considerable knowledge of Australia the governor said that he was able to state that the masses of the people were properly educated, and that the colonies were not backward in any way. He said that the colonies were thoroughly loyal, and that they were not unworthy of the name of British.

GREAT BRITAIN AND CHILI.

THE BRITISH MINISTER THREATENED BY A MOB.
New York, November 12.—The Herald correspondent at Valparaiso states that some coolness has arisen between Mr. Kennedy, the British Minister at Santiago, and the authorities in that city, owing to his being treated with indignity by a mob. On the last night his carriage got into a traffic block by the cemetery at Santiago, and his coachman became involved in a quarrel with other drivers as to his right to a certain place. A crowd gathered, and finding that Mr. Kennedy was a foreigner became so violently hostile that he had to drive away in haste, pursued for some distance by the angry crowd. Senator Irazaval, Minister of the Interior, and Senator Martinez, Minister of Agriculture, have resigned, and it is reported that Senator Matte has taken the same step. They are dissatisfied with the result of the recent elections to the Senate. Senator Altamirano has been consulted as to his willingness to form a Ministry.

PROSECUTION OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF AIX.

Paris, November 12.—It is rumored in connection with the prosecution by the French Government of the Archbishop of Aix that M. Emile Olivier, the late Emperor's Minister, intends presenting himself as counsel for Monsignor Gonthou-Soulard.

(EXCHANGE COMPANY'S TELEGRAM.)

PLOT AGAINST THE KING OF GREECE.
Paris, November 12.—The Relais publishes a special telegram from Athens reporting the discovery of a conspiracy against King George and his dynasty. A leading Minister is said to be implicated in the plot.

BURGLARY AT CANONBURY.

At North London Police Court on Friday, James Garner, 27, giving an address in Lancaster-road, Blackfriars, was charged with being concerned, with another man not in custody, in burglariously entering the house of Mr. E. Legg, at 18, Douglas-road, Canonbury, and stealing goods to the value of £135. It was alleged that the prisoner, with a companion, forced open Mr. S. Legg, son of the prosecutor, said he got up shortly after 5 o'clock that morning, and noticed that his sleeve-links were not in their usual place. He also found that his watch and chain and other articles were missing, and at once called a younger brother, Roland, who slept in another room on the same floor. Proceeding downstairs they found that the place had been ransacked. The younger brother was about to call the police, when he noticed a cab containing two men standing outside the house loaded with goods. On seeing that they were observed, the persons in the cab leaped out, and the elder brother, who overtook him and gave him into custody. The cabman gave evidence that he was hired by the prisoner and another man at 5.30. He was told to drive to Douglas-road, and was stopped by them outside No. 18. They alighted and went down the front garden. One man brought out a box, and the other drove to Chalk Farm Railway Station, but before he started the two sons made their appearance. Mr. Corser remanded the prisoner for a week, and commended Mr. Walter Legg for the smart way in which he had effected the capture.

mately the flag was hoisted over the platform and order was again restored.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT IN FRANCE.

Le Mans, November 11.—A train ran on the line on the State Railway to-day near Marcon. Five persons were injured, three of them seriously.

(DAILY NEWS TELEGRAM.)

POACHING IN BEHRING SEA.
New York, November 13.—Mr. Tingle, agent of the lessees of the Behring Sea seal fisheries, says that the close season has resulted in increased poaching in the open sea, and has involved the killing of the seal as many seals as is allowed by the contract.

RAILWAY DISASTER IN TENNESSEE.

Nashville (Tenn.), November 12.—The south and north-bound passenger trains on the Illinois Central Railway came into collision at a point twelve miles north of Jackson last night. Both trains were travelling at the rate of forty miles an hour, but the reversal of the engine immediately reversed the danger was discovered somewhat diminished the force of the concussion. Nevertheless, both engines were smashed, the smoking cars were telescoped, and the freight cars in the forward part of both trains were piled upon one another. Four men were killed and one seriously injured. Several other persons were also hurt.

REPORTED NEW CANADIAN CABINET.

Montreal, November 11.—The constitution of Premier Abbott's new Cabinet is thus given:—Good authority: Minister of Finance, Hon. G. E. Foster; Public Works, Mr. L. E. Angus; Justice, Hon. Sir J. S. D. Thompson; Customs, Mr. J. J. Curran; Inland Revenue, Hon. John Costigan; Postmaster-general, Hon. John Haggart; Temporary Minister of Militia, Hon. A. P. Caron; Temporary Minister of the Interior, Hon. J. A. Chapleau; Railways, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell; Solicitor-general, Mr. W. Meredith; Agriculture, Hon. John Carling; Secretary of State, Mr. J. A. Oimmet.

SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA.

New York, November 12.—A special despatch to the New York World says that a revolt is hourly expected in Salvador and Guatemala.

(CENTRAL NEWS TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, November 13.—Despatches from Valparaiso state that the Junta decline to accept the resignations of the Cabinet Ministers, and a compromise will probably be reached. It is announced that Senator Gandarria, who was Minister of Agriculture in President Balmaceda's Government, has committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol. Major Fax, who was supposed to have been executed in connection with the Richard Cumming affair, is stated to be alive and residing at Lima. It seems that the man who was executed bore such a strong resemblance to Major Fax that he was actually mistaken for him.

DEATH OF THE HON. LEWIS WINGFIELD.

We regret to announce the death of the Hon. Lewis Wingfield, which occurred on Thursday night at his residence, Montague-place, Russell-square. Mr. Wingfield was among the most versatile of men. He passed from one occupation to another with surprising rapidity, and was by turns artist, actor, author, surgeon, critic, and was correspondent. Among his published works were "Lady Grizell" and "The Globe Trotter," which he had interested himself in the stage presentation of various Shakespearean plays, his knowledge of costume and of archaeological detail being singularly accurate.

THE DEATH OF LIEUTENANT THURBURN.

Particulars have now reached us regarding the death of Lieutenant W. O. Thurburn of R.M.S. Hyacinth. On the 13th October the ship was en route for the river Koda, which is about forty-five miles north of Fagang, in a tug-out canoe in company with Lieutenant Ash, of the same ship. The stream was in flood and very rapid, and when about half-way across the canoe was swamped. Lieutenant Ash was just able to reach the bank, but Lieutenant Thurburn was unfortunately swept away and drowned. His body was recovered on the morning of the 13th October, and was buried the same day with military honours, in the grounds of the British consulate at Koda. In Lieutenant Thurburn the service has lost a valuable officer who could ill be spared.

ALLEGED UNFAIR CARD-PLAYING.

COURT-MARTIAL ON AN OFFICER.
The court-martial on Lieutenant Lowry began at Rangoon on Thursday. Colonel Campbell was the president; Colonel Skinner, the Judge Advocate-general; and Captain Lambert, prosecutor. The court consisted, in addition to the president, of four field officers, four captains, and two lieutenants. According to the charges were overruled. The first charge was that Lieutenant Lowry was playing cards in a public house in Mandalay on May 20th at Mandalay, when playing cards in the Upper Burma Club with Dr. Wilson, of the Indian Medical Service, and Mr. Stephen, bank agent at Mandalay, by unfairly dealing himself cards from the centre of the pack instead of dealing them in succession from the top. The second charge is that he was guilty of unfair play on the same occasion in dealing himself the king of diamonds from the bottom of the pack instead of from the top. A preliminary objection to the form of the charges was overruled. Dr. Wilson deposed that Lieutenant Lowry was playing cards with him at the Upper Burma Club on May 20th at Mandalay, when playing cards in the Upper Burma Club with Dr. Wilson, of the Indian Medical Service, and Mr. Stephen, bank agent at Mandalay, by unfairly dealing himself cards from the centre of the pack instead of dealing them in succession from the top. or having served their time. Owing to the fact that in the metropolis the telegraph messengers have been promised vacant appointments as postmen, the new system cannot as yet be applied to London, but by degrees as many as 16,000 places will be thrown open to soldiers. This is a wholly praiseworthy step. On the one hand, the man who has undergone military discipline will be specially fitted to be punctual, intelligent, obedient, and honest, which are the principal qualities required in a postman, besides being physically fit for the amount of outdoor exercise in all weathers which a postman has to take. And, on the other hand, it is notorious that, up to the present time private employers have not been by any means anxious to engage Reserve men for fear the latter should be suddenly called out to serve with the colours. This has been very hard upon the Reserve men, and the knowledge of this drawback to the advantages of the Army has probably prevented many a smart young fellow from enlisting. Consequently, one may reasonably expect that the new regulation will have a beneficial effect upon the number and quality of recruits, and will, thereby, be useful to the Army as well as to the Reserve and the Post Office. Two suggestions present themselves as supplementary of what has just been done. In the first place, why should the benefits of the new system be confined to the Army? Why should not the sister service share in it too? Sailors are not less deserving of consideration than soldiers, and Jack would make as good a postman as Tommy Atkins. Secondly, the system to be applied to the Post Office might properly be extended to other departments of the public service. In that way the State would provide employment, in time, for the greater portion of our retired soldiers and sailors; at all events, for those who possessed the necessary education and good character, and who chose to avail themselves of the advantages open to them. Now that an advance has been made in so desirable a direction, we do not see why the State should not complete the work.

THE MUNICIPAL DOSS-HOUSE.

The latest fad of the irrepressible faddists of the London County Council is about as mischievous as any that extraordinary body has yet perpetrated. At the last weekly meeting it was decided to erect a model common lodging-house at a cost of £16,500, estimated. We may pass over the fact that this estimate is £2,150 more than was originally proposed, and the probability is that it will ultimately run to about £25,000 more before the building is in working order. Neither need we insist upon the obvious and objectionable Socialism of the whole idea. What we wish to point out is the result of the inauguration of a number of buildings of this kind, which is the aim of the "Progressive" councillors. In order to make the scheme successful, they propose to charge 5d. a night for beds, which is more than any habitual "doss" can or will pay. Hence, in a short time, the council will have to reduce that charge if they are not to work the business at a loss. Probably some of the more foolish of the council's members would rather work it at the expense of the ratepayers than not work it at all, but most likely they will contrive, by lowering their charge, to cover the working expenses, the ratepayers obtaining no satisfaction whatever in the way of interest. This, however, is not the only objection to the scheme. The cutting down of the proposed 5d. a night will result in the underselling of the private proprietors of similar establishments. Perhaps the owners of common lodging-houses are not people who deserve much pity whatever may happen to them, still, they have to make their living, and they make it by providing accommodation of a sort for those who would otherwise have none. And, as they cannot afford to get no return for their outlay of capital, they will gradually disappear, and the council will find itself saddled with the work of providing sleeping room for the accumulated "dossers" of the metropolis. Even that long-suffering beast of burden, the London ratepayer, can scarcely be prepared to stand that. Clearly the right thing for the council to do is to exercise a rigorous supervision over the existing common lodging-houses, not to play ducks and drakes with public money by building more of them on its own account.

MR. BALFOUR.
Mr. Balfour resigned the Irish Chief Secretaryship on Monday, and was appointed First Lord of the Treasury by patent. He therefore attended the Cabinet Council as First Lord. He has appointed Mr. T. Browning, C.B., his first official private secretary, and Mr. W. Hayes Fisher, M.P., and Mr. George Wyndham, M.P., assistant private secretaries, in his new capacity as First Lord of the Treasury. Mr. Browning has been for many years at the Irish Office. Mr. Balfour, who has taken possession of the official residence, 10, Downing-street, on Wednesday formally took over the duties of this office by presiding at the first meeting of the new Commission of the Treasury.

MR. TOOLE'S "RECOLLECTIONS."
Mr. J. L. Toole's "Recollections" form part of "A Sketch-book: Literary and Artistic," which is one of the attractions of a bazaar opened by the Duchess of Buccleuch at Edinburgh, to aid the Widows and Orphans Fund of the police of that city, and to help the local society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Mr. Toole describes how he first came to Edinburgh, on a July morning, in 1850, and made his appearance there "in the old Royal in Shakespeare-square," under the old Wyndham. He was tired and weary after his journey from Dublin, and going to bed, slept till the call-boy came in hot haste to summon him. "There was just time to dress and rush up to the theatre and on to the stage. In my hurry," says Mr. Toole, "I tripped over a chair and almost fell head first in front of the audience. This was greeted with a loud peal of laughter, and I felt dreadfully nervous in consequence all the evening. The part I played was Hector Timid in 'The Dead Shot,' and the critics—bless 'em—set down my nervous appearance in their notices as morning as especially well done; and spoke of my happy method of making my entrance on the stage."

There were seven cases of drowning in London last week.

There were eight cases of suicide in the metropolis last week.

Forty-eight deaths in London last week were attributed to accident or negligence.

During October London required an average daily supply of 179,931,481 gallons of water.

No less than 325 deaths in the metropolis last week were attributed to diseases of the respiratory organs.

The Registrar-general again announces that twelve London infants were last week suffocated in bed.

Mr. Jackson, the new Irish Secretary, will retain the services of Mr. George A. Stevenson, of the Treasury, as his private secretary.

It was announced in Washington that it had been decided to submit the controversy regarding the Behring Sea seal fisheries to arbitration.

The negotiations for the conclusion of a treaty of commerce between Switzerland and Italy will take place at Zurich, probably in December. The question of the Simplon tunnel will not be raised.

The Prince of Wales has promised to visit the Duke of Portland at Welbeck Abbey, arriving on December 14th, and remaining for a few days. A distinguished party will be invited to meet his royal highness.

Sir Henry Drummond Wolff has not yet set out for the east again. He had arranged to start for Bucharest on Tuesday evening, but was detained upon it, it is said, important public business. He visited the Foreign Office in the course of Tuesday afternoon.

A young lady, Miss Leclerc, has, a Paris correspondent says, just raised the examination for the diploma of pharmaceutical chemist. The correspondent adds that there are several lady doctors practising in Paris, and even a lady barrister, but Miss Leclerc will be the first lady to open a chemist's shop.

It was announced in the Supreme Court at Washington, on the resumption of the arguments in the P. Jaycard case, that Great Britain and the United States have come to an agreement regarding the terms on which the differences between the two Governments in respect to the seal fisheries in Behring Sea shall be submitted to arbitration.

Americans beat us in the matter of floral decoration. At a recent reception the manipulators were backed up with chrysanthemums over which fell a curtain of similar. This, when drawn back, revealed a sight of brilliant plumage, birds hovering in the air, flowers, and the like, which were arranged in the room, rendering the effect a very pretty one.

At a meeting of the Leamington Corporation it was determined to invite the Prince and Princess of Wales to visit Leamington on the occasion of the Royal Agricultural Society's Show at Warwick next year. Some discussion took place as to the propriety of welcoming the royal visitors; but eventually it was decided to leave the matter open to the council and to public subscriptions.

Sir M. Hicks Beach, as President of the Board of Trade, was waited on by a deputation of gentlemen representing the shipping interest. The Shipping Federation and ship-owners having established registry offices, and having registered upwards of 50,000 men, now propose that the Board of Trade shall issue licenses to duly-qualified agents of ship-owners. Sir Michael declined to accede to the suggestion.

The Archbishop of York, in accordance with the custom of his predecessors, has issued a pastoral, in which he appeals on behalf of the Diocesan Church Extension Society and the Diocesan Educational Fund. He deplores the fact that in only one of the parishes in that diocese are collections made in behalf of these objects last year, and he hopes that this year every parish will contribute something, however small the amount might be.

At the recent gathering of librarians in San Francisco it was stated that Mr. Rudolph, of the Free Library in that city, has devised a new system of cataloguing of a startling kind. It solves, we are said, the long-standing problem of the universal catalogue. It is speedy—books received in the morning, no matter how numerous, can be presented to the reader in a printed catalogue before night. Finally, it is so cheap that what now costs two dollars can be done for one-eighth of that sum.

The secretary of the Midland Merchants Association at Nottingham has received communication from the Postmaster-general stating, in reply to a suggestion that the penny rate of postage should be introduced for correspondence exchanged between all English-speaking people, that he cannot hold out any hope of adopting such an extreme measure, but adding that for newspapers, pamphlets, and other literature, a more substantial reduction of postage.

At the recent licensing sessions the County Council refused to renew the license for music and dancing to the occupant of the Angel and Crown, Ship-alley, in the Tower district. Application was on Monday made in the Queen's Bench Division for a rule requiring the County Council to show cause why that refusal should not be quashed. A similar application was made in the case of the Rose and Crown, and in both cases Justices Mathew and Smith granted rules to show cause.

The mayor of Eastbourne, Mr. Alderman Morrison, entertained 400 guests at the Grand Hotel, Eastbourne, on Monday night. The dinner, the Sunday press says, was the principal topic of the speakers, and the repressive policy of the authorities was endorsed with great enthusiasm. The re-election of Mr. Alderman Morrison was commemorated by a grand fancy dress illuminated procession, which perambulated the town, and attracted large numbers of visitors from all parts of Sussex.

The Dublin police have arrested the Rev. E. G. Cotton, incumbent of Caragh, county Kildare, on a charge of manslaughter. Mr. Cotton was founder and manager of an orphanage in his parish; but it is alleged that the children have been ill-treated, and that one of them, aged 10 years, has since died, and, as it has been certified that the death resulted from the treatment she received, Mr. Cotton was arrested. The child was too ill to be removed when the police entered the orphanage for the purpose of taking the children away under a magistrate's warrant.

The Victoria Steamboat Company have begun their system of winter fares, and are now carrying passengers between London Bridge and Greenwich, a distance of six miles, for one penny, both week-days and Sundays. The fare up the river from London Bridge to Hattersea-square—almost as long a journey—is reduced to the same trifling sum. This is probably the cheapest locomotion ever known. The old card tickets taken at the piers are for the sake of economizing labour abolished, and passengers now pay board, receiving a little printed slip on what is known as the barrel system. During the winter season the boats cease to stop at Vauxhall, Waterloo Bridge, and St. Paul's Pier.

The Argentine army is to be raised to 11,000 men.

Mr. Mundella believes that a universal Eight Hours Act is utterly impossible.

Some young men think that a boy's best friend is his "uncle."

It is the noisy political speaker who makes his statements.

It was an Irish schoolmaster who asked if any absentees were present.

Money is a scoldish thing, and yet it always seems to appeal to man's hire nature.

Though happy days are so scarce we always show an extravagant desire to spend them.

Quite a large proportion of the world's chestnut crop comes from Spain, but Fleet street runs the Peninsula pretty close.

"No number of defeats can drive us one inch from our position," says Mr. John Redmond.

A fight between a father and son named Johnson, in a saloon at Hartville, Missouri, resulted in the death of the son.

After living to be an octogenarian, Mrs. James Robertson, of Seymour, Indiana, died recently of nicotine poisoning.

What is the use of reforming a man in prison and then letting him out into this wicked world.

A Vienna correspondent states that a gold nugget, weighing 100 lb., has been found in the Transylvanian gold mines.

Sir Arthur Sullivan has accepted the conductorship of the Leeds Musical Festival, to be held in the autumn of next year.

"General" Booth's eldest daughter, "La Marcella," has been alluded to as the "flower of the family." A sort of Marcella Neil rosebud, eh?

The mother of a Kansas City baby is 16, its grandmother is 33, and its great grandmother is 52. That's the way they raise rising generations in America.

Many New York barbers remain open to the public all night, and the dudes are commencing to discover that hair-oil is better than no drink at all.

Mrs. Charles A. Dana, the wife of the well-known American editor, is unique among American society women. Her servants actually do what she tells them.

The cold summer and lack of sun has destroyed all possibility of a good wine harvest in the Rhine district. But it will be quite a Champion vinegar year.

It has been found an easy matter to write a confession from the latest New York murderer. You see, he was a doorkeeper, and accustomed to making admissions.

The value of the personal estate of Mr. Walter Blandford Waterhouse, of High Street, Redhill, Surrey, who died on the 28th of August, aged 74, has been sworn at £26,773.

A Quaker carrier arrived on Monday at one of his way-side Mentone and San Remo, at one of which places he will select a villa to be occupied by her Majesty next March.

A restaurant-keeper, named Weinberger, of Guthrie, Oklahoma Territory, was stabbed to death by three drunken men whom he had ordered out of his place.

The Junior Constitutional Club, which is next to Sir Julian Goldsmid's large house, is the finest building in Piccadilly, and its co-sponsors are Lord Rothschild's and the Apsley House and Lord Rothschild's mansion.

Arkansas newspapers report the case of a rejected lover who has burned his intended bride's trousseau and decamped. The young man evidently wanted the girl to remember him as her old flame.

America is the place for daring criminals. Two of these gentry have broken into a mint and stolen a couple of Government dies, presumably for coining purposes. It was a saucy, a mint-saucy, thing to do.

The charred remains of a man, apparently a tramp, were found on a comp. at ashes at Blochairn, near Glasgow. Enticed by Blochairn, the unfortunate fellow had gone to sleep, and been overcome by the fumes.

In Sweden, it is said, one can get a really good servant girl for £3 a year. If she can be warranted not to break more than five times her value in china she is cheap—comparatively.

Professor Lintner, who, during his extensive travels, has probably stayed at a large variety of hotels and boarding-houses, says that there are a million or more species of insects in the world.

The Amer is so much in earnest in his desire to visit England that he has ordered his English tailor to prepare for him such warm clothing as is likely to be needed for the trip.

Mr. Horace Gifford, of London, has been appointed secretary of the Glasgow Stock Exchange, in succession to the late Mr. Shields. There were forty applicants for the post.

Charles T. Yerkes, an American who made his pile out of Chicago street-car, has just spent £200,000 of his fortune in Parisian works of art. The Chicago patrons of Yerkes' cars can reflect that "many a 'nickel' makes a mickle."

Some of those people who plead for the preservation of the second-class railway carriage are just the ones who travel second-class with a third-class ticket, but lack the audacity to go first-class on the same principle. A little cheek is a dangerous thing.

Mr. Robert Louis Stevenson has come up to treasure-trove in looking over some old papers belonging to his grandfather. It consists of a manuscript diary of a journey his grandfather took in company with Sir Walter Scott.

Continental "English as she is wrote" is occasionally diverting. In a letter emanating from Central Germany, and, on the whole, well-written, the equivalent of challenge to a trick-riding bicycle competition is rendered "provocation for competition in art productions upon the bicycle."

"If," says Mr. John Dillon, "when the Liberals come into power they should prove so base as to betray us, and if the Home Rule Bill should not be satisfactory, at least we shall have got rid of coercion, and those men who now doubt the good faith of Mr. Gladstone can then come forward and light a new battle on the old lines."

Between the 1st April and 7th inst. the total receipts into the exchequer amounted to £47,569,324, as compared with £46,015,516 in the corresponding period of the last financial year. And the expenditure to £54,275,750, as against £52,732,943. On the 7th inst. the Treasury balances stood at £1,601,585, and on the corresponding date of the previous year at £1,183,163.

There has been for some time on the notice paper of the London County Council a proposal to require the Parks and Open Spaces Committee to report to the council on the best means of securing the garden of Lincoln's Inn Fields as an open space, and to inquire of the secretary the estimated compensation the trustees would require. It ought to be possible to pass a simple motion like this without further delay.

William Center, a San Francisco capitalist, has committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

A notice in the London Gazette contains a proclamation of the lieutenant-governor of the Colony of Man prohibiting the importation of any cattle into that island after the 8th inst.

Tuesday was the last day for withdrawals in connection with the London School Board election, and out of the 116 candidates who were nominated for the fifty-two seats fifteen candidates have withdrawn.

A curious ladies' fashion for the winter season is the large-brimmed hat of black straw or felt, the black feathers and lace at the top, a couleau or a ruche of coloured velvet in front, over which lies a slightly drawn frill of very fine black lace.

Now that Mr. Augustin Daly has taken a twenty-one years' lease of his new theatre, the black wants to know how old Miss Ada Hoban will be when the lease expires. Our weekly contemporary had better submit its conundrum to the lady herself. She knows.

Lord George Hamilton, at a dinner of the Conservative Club, responded for the Ministers. He maintained that they had secured the confidence of the country, and might fairly claim to be able to continue to promote the best interests of the nation.

The remarkable growth in the imported meat trade is shown by the increased accommodation which has to be provided for the reception and storage of frozen meat from Australia and New Zealand, and the construction of stores and sheds capable of storing 235,000 sheep.

The growth of the United States Patent Office has been very remarkable. In 1790 three patents were issued; 100 years later the number was 33,292. The total number of patents granted during the 100 years was 433,944, or an average of nearly thirteen patents for every day.

The Lord Mayor presided at a meeting, held at the Mansion House, in aid of the Rowland Hill Memorial and Beneficent Fund, the object of which was to relieve and assist poor old servants, their widows, and children. Its claim to public support was urged by several speakers.

The Hon. Richard O'Connor, Minister of Justice in New South Wales, is a lineal descendant of Arthur O'Connor, one of the leaders of the United Irishmen in '98, who negotiated with General Hoche a Franco-Irish alliance. Arthur O'Connor subsequently entered the service of France, and attained the rank of general of division.

Dean Stanley's dislike of the Athanasian Creed was well known. The following inscription on a stone, carefully preserved in his interesting collection of curios, was one of the things that used to amuse the dean's visitors:—"This stone was picked up on the very spot where Saint Athanasius did not write the creed that bears his name."

Monday, besides being the jubilee birthday of the Prince of Wales, was the silver wedding of the Emperor of Russia with the Empress Marie Dagmar, sister of the Queen of Wales. It is a curious coincidence that, on the birthday of the Prince of Wales, the marriage of his royal highness took place on the anniversary of the birthday of the Czar.

Innumerable paragraphs have been written about the two young gentlemen who purpose living a Robinson Crusoe life on an uninhabited island off the coast of Cornwall. But no one has arrived at the conclusion that before six months are past the young gentlemen will all own the island, and the other will be owing him money. If looked at in this way, the experiment promises to be interesting.

Mr. Balfour gracefully declines the invitation to a Dublin banquet by way of celebrating his tenure of the Chief Secretaryship. "I certainly," he says, "cannot claim to have done more than my duty during my secretaryship. I naturally feel that the present set would be a sad acknowledgment of my not having done the duty of a minister being entrusted at such a banquet while his Government was still in office."

Several members of the royal family celebrate their birthdays this month. For instance, the Princess Royal (the Empress Frederick) was born on the 21st. Princess Maud of Wales on the 26th. Princess Elizabeth of Hesse on the 1st. Ernest Louis of Hesse on the 25th. Victoria of Edinburgh on the 27th, and Alexander, the first-born of Prince and Princess Henry of Battenberg on the 23rd.

The Lord Chief Justice and Justices Wright and Collins sat to hear registration appeals. In St. Pancras thirty-three old lodger claimants had been struck off because the attestations were not signed at the time the claimants wrote their signatures. The court held that the signatures of the claimant and the witness must be contemporaneous. An appeal on the part of the L'erals to remove from the occupiers' list forty-eight occupants of stalls and stands in Spitalfields Market was dismissed.

At a special sitting of the Teddington Sessions, Arthur M. Leach, architect and surveyor, of the London Joint Stock Bank buildings, Smithfield Market, and Henry C. C. Coffey, solicitor, of Mormon street, Bermondsey, were brought up, for the sixth time, charged with having conspired with a man named Adams to defraud the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company of £350. The magistrates committed both prisoners for trial, and refused bail.

Speaking at a meeting of the Dover Town Council, the mayor, Sir Wm. Crundall, said he was able to say that the Board of Trade had agreed to transfer the Admiralty Pier to the Dover Harbour Board, and that in the course of a few months the pier would be under the control of the board. Sir John Coode, engineer for the work, had now received instructions to proceed with the working drawings, and the board would be in a position by about the end of the year, both financially and in regard to the working drawings, to issue the contracts for the first section of the work.

Mr. Justice Lawrence and a jury continued the trial of an action for malicious prosecution and libel brought by Mr. A. J. Child against Mr. Barrow, an estate agent, of Balham. After leaving the defendant's service the plaintiff was prosecuted and acquitted at the Old Bailey. Before the case had concluded it was agreed that the plaintiff should accept £250 damages and £50 agreed costs. All imputations were withdrawn, but the defendant refused to apologise. Judgment was entered for that amount, the judge remarking that the defendant had got off very cheaply.

The Queen has been pleased to approve the following appointment to the Most Honourable Order of the Bath (Civil Division)—To be C.B.: Colonel Alfred Edward Turner, R.A., divisional commander, Cork. Colonel Turner entered the Army in 1860, and obtained a captaincy in the Royal Artillery in 1873. He became major in 1881, lieutenant-colonel in 1882, and brevet-colonel in the same year. He went with the Nile Expedition in 1884-5 as deputy assistant adjutant-general in the Intelligence Department on the headquarters staff, and was present in the engagement at Abu Klea, being mentioned in despatches, and receiving a medal with two clasps and the Khedive's star.

This terrible story comes from Texas. Lee Green, a negro, murdered two members of the Lowe family near Yuma City, Texas. The next day a crowd took him from the gaol to the scene of his crimes. He was chained to a tree, after which a band of negroes piled faggots about him and burned him to death.

The president of police in Berlin has received from the murders of women committed in 1883-90 in Whitechapel. It is stated that its perusal has already resulted in the discovery of a point which throws some light on the recent murder in Berlin.

A denial is given to the statement that Prince Ferdinand recently gave a dejeuner and proposed a toast to Macedonian soil, and that an English journalist proposed a political toast on this occasion. Prince Ferdinand, it is said, has never been across the Turkish frontier, and no such toast was proposed at any time by any English journalist in the prince's presence.

Lady Mox is one of the latest to be attracted by Theosophy. She has been paying several visits to the "Spookeries" in Avenue-road, and her interest in the movement has manifested itself in the presentation of a cheque for £20 towards the Theosophical Society, which is in process of formation in connection with the Theosophical Society.

A woman was seen to drink something from a bottle at Liverpool-street Station, and on being questioned said it was laudanum, and that she had poisoned herself. A doctor administered an emetic, and the woman was handed over to the police. Two bottles containing poison were found on her. She is a resident of Leytonstone.

Sir John Gort's appointment to the Secretaryship of the Treasury only brings him in £500 a year more than he had at the India Office. His salary is now £2,400. Curiously enough, Sir John is worse off now in respect to salary than he was in 1838. Then, as Solicitor-general he was paid at the rate of £8,000 a year.

Mr. John Hockaday, inspector of the Postal Telegraph Engineering Department in Sheffield, on Monday committed suicide by taking a quantity of nitric acid. The reason is not known. He was formerly a telegraph clerk in the post office at Leeds. He leaves a wife and seven children. It is said he had been a good deal depressed of late, and had been overworked.

We are authorized to state that the report of the retirement of the chaplain-general to the forces is entirely without foundation. The chaplain-general, at his own request, resigns the chaplaincy of the Tower of London, the duties of which he finds himself unable to perform efficiently together with his other duties; but he retains the office of chaplain-general.

Sir James Ferguson, speaking at Reiford, said he had never known a lion of Commons so capable of good work, and which had done so much for the country as the present one. He maintained that the Government had carried measures which were for the benefit of the nation, and that their foreign policy had caused us to be respected from one end of the world to the other.

We are not likely to run short of apples this winter, seeing what an immense quantity of this wholesome fruit is coming to us from Canada. The apple crop in the Dominion for the present season is reported to be the largest on record, the yield in one district alone enabling growers to send as many as 39,000 barrels a week to the wholesale dealers in Montreal.

Charles Condon, with several aliases, a corporal in the Inniskilling Fusiliers, and Lydia Condon, his wife, have been again remanded by the Portsmouth magistrates on a charge of coining counterfeit money and having implements in their possession for the purposes of coining. It was stated that a total of 331 spurious coins had been seized by the police at the prisoners' lodgings.

A young Japanese librarian, Mr. Tanaka, has prepared an interesting report on the public libraries of his country. The Tokio Library is a national institution, and, like our British Museum, is entitled to one copy of every publication issued from the press. It has been in existence scarcely twenty years; yet it already contains nearly 100,000 Japanese and Chinese books, besides more than 25,000 European books and duplicates which are in reserve.

The Rev. C. B. Cooper, of Emanuel Church, Ebbw Vale, has subscribed to the local funds of the Salvation Army, has now forwarded to Lord Salisbury a protest against their proceedings in the town, and he also denounces mob law. The disturbances were referred to at the mayoral banquet on Monday night by the Rev. H. B. Otley, vicar of Eastbourne, who, in reference to the recent correspondence with the Army leaders, expressed the opinion that it was for the local authorities to see that the law is obeyed.

The Bombay Hindoos are claiming an extraordinary miracle to have been wrought by their gods. Some time ago a bunia had reported that he had had a vision in which he saw an idol appear out of the sand on the shore. He made known his dream among the community, pointing out the spot where it had been foretold him the idol would appear. The place was watched, and early one morning, so the story goes, a form suddenly appeared out of the ground at the very spot pointed out by the lad. The idol is now visited by worshipping hundreds.

Mr. Gooschen's 25 gold pieces were, says a correspondent, always rare and never of any practical service, but as curiosities they have an increasing value. Any person who gets one planted upon him in the way of exchange bastards to get rid of it as too cumbersome and too large a sum for one coin, though, in fact, it can be exchanged for more than its full value. In London the coin will fetch five guineas if you know where to get the customer. Their greatest value, however, is in the colonies, where they will be refused as coin, but are treasured up as mementoes and curiosities. The fortunate possessor of one will obtain 47 for it at Melbourne, and there is a ready demand for them at that price.

Mr. John Potts, a German resident of Sarpeia, in Calicut county, Miss., died recently at the reputed age of 113 years.

Captain Armstrong, Madame Melba's husband, is a remarkably expert wordsman, and a formidable boxer. When at Brussels he carried everything before him in matches with duelling swordsmen—in fact, his feats astounded the Brussels almost as much as his wife's singing.

So the Legist party is becoming an accomplished fact. It applied to the offices of the Legist League as fast as her Majesty's mail can deliver them, and the work of organizing the party and placing it upon firm and practical basis exceeds, in point of celebrity, our bravest and most sanguine expectations." So Mr. Stuart Erskine assures the world.

On the Mangishlak Peninsula in the Caspian Sea there are five small lakes. One of them is covered with salt crystals strong enough to allow man and beast to cross the lake on foot; another is as round as any circle, and a lovely rose colour. Its banks of salt crystals form a setting, white as snow, to the water, which not only shows all the colours from violet to rosy red, but from which rises a singularly pleasant perfume.

A meeting, under the auspices of the Ratepayers Association, was held at the Memorial Hall, to consider the future policy of the School Board. A candidate was named to the effect that no candidate was worthy of support unless he was pledged to a reduction of the rate, and protesting against the laxity of supervision which had characterised the departments of the board.

Funerals in Paris are, under the existing regime, classed in a series of ten different kinds, and the prices are fixed arbitrarily, according to the class, and one great company has a monopoly of them all. The funerals in the first six classes vary in cost from 8,000 francs to 100 francs. But the eighth class is 22 francs, the ninth 8 francs, and the tenth gratuitous. Of these gratuitous interments there are in Paris from 32,000 to 35,000.

The London School Board on Wednesday prosecuted, at the Greenwich Police Court, the clerk of Christ Church, a man named Campbell, for not sending his little girl to school. The defendant said she had been attending at the parish church school, except when she had to attend at the school of the Holy Trinity. He had no time to attend before committees of the School Board. The magistrate dismissed the summons, and ordered the board to pay the defendant 10s. for his expenses.

A man named Edward Green was charged, at the Mansion House, with being on the roof of a house in St. Paul's-churchyard for an unlawful purpose. He had obtained permission to go upon the roof, and there had detached seven wires belonging to the Holy Trinity company. The man had been a can-vasser in the employ of the company, but had no right to do anything to the wires. He was fined 45s, and ordered to pay the amount of the damage done, namely, 45s.

Mr. Jackson, M.P., addressed a meeting at Leeds in connection with his re-election. He said he felt that the duties of the office he had undertaken were not light; but he regarded the call to them as one of obligation; and he would commence the work of the Chief Secretary to the Lord-Lieutenant with confidence. He felt that he was supported by his constituents. He alluded to the Local Government Bill and the Free Education Bill for Ireland, which the Government had promised to introduce, and said they expected great results still to ensue from the legislation already accomplished by Mr. Balfour.

WHAT WAS SAID.

CUSTOMER: Well, what have you here?

FRASER: That which is equally your interest to buy as ours is to sell.

CUSTOMER: Something quite new, then?

FRASER: Nothing new nor old, for it is both.

CUSTOMER: You talk in riddles.

FRASER: It is a remedy called Fraser's Sulphur Tablets.

CUSTOMER: Why Sulphur has been a well known remedy for many years.

FRASER: True, but we have improved it by adding cod liver oil, and have made it pleasant to take and more efficacious. If you buy Fraser's Tablets, you will find them to be the most reliable and most effective remedy for all ailments connected with the blood, and are invaluable for the cure of all ailments of the blood.

CUSTOMER: You can assure me of the virtue of Fraser's Tablets.

FRASER: You know it is practically impossible to prepare a remedy that will be a specific for all ailments connected with the blood, and which will not be pleasant to take and more efficacious. If you buy Fraser's Tablets, you will find them to be the most reliable and most effective remedy for all ailments connected with the blood, and are invaluable for the cure of all ailments of the blood.

CUSTOMER: I notice you say "TEST THEM FREE OF CHARGE." Do you really do that?

FRASER: Yes, we send sample gratis and post free to all who write us for same, named and addressed.

CUSTOMER: This is a very fair, for only merit could stand the test.

FRASER: Yes, any one can be profited of words, but it is not so easy to be profited of by the truth. We send the truth of what we say to you.

CUSTOMER: Well here is the money for a packet.

FRASER: And here is a packet of Fraser's Sulphur Tablets in good condition, and we hope the truth of what we say will be proved to you.

CUSTOMER: Give me your name and address for future reference.

FRASER: Here it is—Fraser's Tablets, Limited, 11, Ludgate-square, London, with address at every chemist and medicine vendor in the land.

DO I NEED THEM?

If you have Impurity of the Blood, Eczema, Scarcities of memory, or Drowsiness—Yes! They enter the blood as a purifying, antiseptic, and disintegrant, and therefore neutralize the blood poisons causing the diseases named, and expel the germs out of the system.

If you have Rheumatism, Gout, or other Eruptions of the Skin—Yes! FRASER'S SULPHUR TABLETS have a direct effect upon the skin, as they disintegrate and expel the poisons which cause the eruptions, and the skin pores and the tiny waste channels leading from the blood. They also control the irritating chemical principles discharged from diseased blood, thus causing Eczema and other painful eruptions.

If you have Catarrhs—Yes! They are a gentle, simple, safe, and healthy laxative, available for children (in simple doses) as for adults.

If you have Hemorrhoids (Piles)—Yes! They relieve all swollen and inflamed hemorrhoids, and are most beneficial in the treatment of the disease.

If you have Rheumatism—Yes! FRASER'S SULPHUR TABLETS control the decomposing and poisonous elements of the blood, which is frequently generated by the blood poisons, and which are the cause of the disease. If you have Rheumatism, or any other ailment of the blood, or if you are unable to get on, or if you are in doubt as to whether you have FRASER'S SULPHUR TABLETS at once.

If you have, or are liable to, Chills and Colds—Yes! They break up a cold by opening the pores, thus freeing the body from poisonous elements.

TEST THEM FREE OF CHARGE.

Send us your name and address on application. Name the FRASER'S SULPHUR TABLETS, LIMITED, 11, LUDGATE-SQUARE, LONDON, E.C. of a soldier of good character, belonging to the Reserve or having served their term of applications for suitable candidates will be made to the officers commanding depots or to the Guards' Employers' Society. This system cannot at present be adopted in the metropolis, because up to a certain point the telegraph messengers were engaged on the prospect of being appointed to vacancies as postmen when of proper age upon approved service and on passing a certain examination; but it is about to be replaced by one thus open to all soldiers. They will now have to pass the examination introduced by the Civil Service commission and their good character will be vouched for by the military authorities.
